Cookies

This website uses cookies. A cookie is a small file stored on your computer.

Technical cookies are used to save usage settings and to facilitate user navigation on our website. Cookies can also be used for audience measurement purposes (traffic statistics and, more generally, assessment of the use of websites, particularly via the Google Analytics tool, an internet website analysis service by Google) or targeted advertising, if the user has previously consented thereto.

Users can change their browser settings to block the use of these cookies. Most browsers are set by default to accept cookies. Users can choose to set their browsers to systematically reject all cookies or to accept or refuse cookies, on a case-by-case basis, prior to their installation. They can also regularly delete cookies from their devices via their browsers. The configuration of each browser is different.

In general, users can disable the use of cookies by selecting the appropriate browser settings (these are usually available in the ?options? or ?preferences? menu of the browser). It should be noted that totally disabling cookies could prevent the use of or access to certain functionalities of the emlyon websites.

Users should not forget to set all the browsers of their various devices (tablets, smartphones, computers, etc.).

More specifically, with regard to the Google Analytics audience measurement tool, it should be noted that the data generated by your use of the website (including your IP address) will be transmitted and stored by Google Analytics on Google servers hosted in the European Union. Users may block the use of cookies by Google Analytics by means of the following opt-out mechanism: <http://www.cnil.fr/vos-obligations/sites-web-cookies-et-autres-traceurs/outils-et-codes->
